Only thirty-four years of age, Ted David has made every year of his adult life count in civic betterment. An honor graduate of University of Georgia and University of Miami, he spent four years in the U. S. Army, emerging with rank of captain, before embarking on his phenomenal rise in politics. He ran for, and won a seat in the House in 1948 and 1950—unopposed in 1952 and 1954—and is the House choice for next session's speaker, to become one of the youngest men so honored in the nation.

County Tax Assessor James M. Owens, Jr., told the commission he believed the county's intangible tax valuation of $576,460 to be only surpassed by similar valuations in Duval, Volusia and Seminole counties. This assessment is expected to raise $22,096 in revenue this year.

Certification of the roll Monday, Owens said, was necessary because of an old state statute adopted years ago when the roll was made up by hand. The special meeting, and the roll that is delivered to the county tax collector.

Today's modern methods of bookkeeping which employs the use of machines, eliminates any possibility of error in the two rolls.

Annual Teachers' Reception marks the first meeting of the P.T.A. to be held at the high school auditorium, Tuesday, Oct. 12 at 8 p. m.

Revised Construction Plans For L-2, L-3 Will Be Ready To Let Contracts In 60 Days

WE KNEW, TOO!

A subject of a highly controversial nature and of vital importance to the Belle Glade community is being handled around the streets.

The HERALD is fully aware of all the details and could have published the story in this issue, but in cooperation with duly constituted authorities, who are making Herculean efforts to correct the situation, we are refraining from publishing the facts because we believe it would serve no good purpose at this time.

We've got our finger on the pulse and we ain't been scooped.

These waters come from the area south of Clewiston, Moore Haven and westward from land as high as 30 feet. From the high point approximately fifteen to eighteen feet south of the Lake and south of Moore Haven, the slope is northwesterly towards Clewiston and southeasterly over the mucklands around Lake Harbor, the Belles canal and more southerly to the Miami canal.

Leaves Nos. 2 and No. 3 are located at the "foot of the hill" and the water comes from 200 to 300 square miles of area and amounts to "quite a drink" in flood times. Originally, no provision was made to insure that the bottom canal, designed to serve regular cross-section to facilitate the flow of flood waters.

Recent designs provide a canal to intersect flood waters at 20 feet in width at the north end of L-1 and widening, as recently demands, 60 feet in width at the lower end of L-3.

Landowners of these flood waters would back up on them because the levees will stop the dispersing of the water into the flatlands to the east.

The money is available for the current year and authorization has been made for these two levees and the engineers are ready to advertise for contracts within the next sixty days.

So, to go ahead with the contracts, give some relief to the lands east of the levees, and still not bottle up water too much to the west, the engineers have come up with a proposal to leave fifty feet of the levee out in each 250 feet.

When nearly a thousand expected guests have been seated in the main dining room of the George Washington hotel on Saturday evening, October 9, they will have the pleasure of hearing several young men on the way to national, and quite probably world prominence.

Fred O. "Bud" Dickenson, Democratic nominee to the Florida House of Representatives, member of a fine, old southern family and a political figure of great promise will, as master of ceremonies, introduce John "Red" Lake, president of the Florida Youth Democrats; James Milligan, chairman of the State Democratic Executive Committee and the star of the evening, Ted David, who will have an important message for all Democrats.

Additional Dike And Canal Improve Runoff Facilities In New Plan

The protecting levee on the west of the Agricultural Area was designed to intercept flood waters at approximately the sixteen foot elevation and divert it southward to the Big Cypress, or to the southern conservation area.

These waters come from the area south of Clewiston, Moore Haven and westward from land as high as 30 feet. From the high point approximately fifteen to eighteen feet south of the Lake and south of Moore Haven, the slope is northwesterly towards Clewiston and southeasterly over the mucklands around Lake Harbor, the Belles canal and more southerly to the Miami canal.

Clewiston Tigers Defeat Rams By Close 12-6 Score
By BILL NICHOLSON
The Tigers of Clewiston posted their third triumph of the season with a 12-6 victory over Belle Glade at Memorial Field last Friday night.

About 2,500 loyal fans sat through intermittent rain as the Rams lost their second game against one victory.

Richard Bethea scored shortly after the game started when Belle Glade fumbled in its own 45. Clewiston recovered and in three plays Bethea carried the ball to the end zone. He then plunged over for the score. Luther Davis, the barefoot kicker, failed to kick the placement.

Wayne Bair received the kick on the Ram's ten yard line and returned it to the twenty-seven yard line. He then plunged Belle Glade failed to gain and punted on fourth down.

Betha's first pass of the evening was intercepted by Buck Jones, center for the Rams. Jones carried the ball to the midfield stripe. A few plays later Walter Mosley, the galloping Ram, broke through the left end of the Clewiston line for thirty-seven yards to tie the score. The try for the extra point was fumbled.

In the second quarter, Clewiston's Hal White and Richard Bethea alternated carrying the ball on a sustained drive of fifty-five yards to put the ball on the Belle Glade ten yard line. Here the fighting Rams put up a brilliant goal line stand, however, they then inched the ball across on fourth down. The kick for the extra point was partially blocked by a Belle Glade lineman.

The Rams came rushing back over last year's assessments.

County Officials To Attend Meeting Of State Association

A delegation of county officials will attend the mid-year conference of the State Association of County Commissioners when that organization meets in Ft. Lauderdale October 8 to 10.

The Palm Beach County Commissioners this week authorized its members, the county engineer and the county attorney to attend the meeting.

Commissioner Paul Rardin, chairman of the association legislative committee, said his group expects to hear a report on a poll of the state legislators with reference to changing the gas tax law.

Under present statutes, the seventh cent of the gas tax is refunded to the counties for road construction as designated by the county commission. A proposed change in the law would take part of this money from the jurisdiction of the county commissioners in the state.

community, gave a very interesting talk on the history of the department. He told about a fire in 1928 which destroyed about three buildings across from his own business, in spite of the bucket brigade formed by townsmen. A short time afterwards, Will was elected to town Council and while in office purchased an old fire truck from West Palm Beach, under protest from most of the older men in town, but their objections were over-ruled and the fire department was formed in 1930 and Will was named fire chief.

Chief Will has seen the department grow to a present force of five regular employees and 21 volunteers, with the most modern equipment and new fire hall, equal to the best in the county.

Tiny Todd, president, appointed a committee to investigate sponsorship of motorcycle races jointly with the Clewiston Jaycees at Clewiston. The committee chairman, Jack Tatum, was assisted by Bobby Newman and David Moore.

Guests were Sam Knight and D. C. Arnette.

The invitation was extended to Jaycees to attend a dance at the end of Fire Prevention Week, which will be sponsored by Fire Department at the Country Club.

County Board Calls Public Hearing On Improvement Work

A public hearing October 25, has been called by the Palm Beach County Commission to consider a proposed county-wide improvement program.

In a resolution adopted last Friday, the commission set the public hearing for 12:30 a. m.

Scheduled for discussion will be the remodeling of the county jail, remodeling of the courthouse and construction of a court house annex.

The improvement program is to be financed through sale of revenue certificates backed by a tax levy. The resolution called for a levy not to exceed 5 mills for a maximum of 15 years. The commission explained that even though state statutes called for the 5 mill levy, the county's program is expected to be completed for a much lower millage and a shorter period of time.

The county's improvement program calls for the court house and jail projects, a new children's home, two health centers in the Glades, one of which will be located in Belle Glade, a tourist information center at Juno Beach and a county office building.

Also included in another section of the $5 million program is construction of several new bridges and additions to the county's road system. Included in this section is the widening and repaving of Ave. E in Belle Glade at an estimated cost of $315,000.

Lots Of Room For Hot Or Cold Air In King-Size Tire

A tire that weighs as much as an automobile and costs more is now on the market, Mr. Bill McCleathery of H. A. K. in Son Tread Service announced today.

It contains enough nylon to make 3000 pairs of women's hose, enough rubber to make 125 standard automobile tires, and enough bead wire to go around a 200-acre farm.

The 2600-pound tire, made in the Detroit plant of United States Rubber Co. and called U. S. Royal Con-Tak-Tor, has a 30.00-33 size, stands eight feet tall, and has a 40-psi rating. It is used on huge earth-moving and strip mining equipment, bottom dump trucks, and self-loading scrapers.

Curing time for the huge tire, Mr. McCleathery said, is 16 hours compared with 17 minutes for a typical passenger tire. Molds are so large that they could only be installed after a portion of the plant wall was temporarily removed.

Price of the giant tire is $4,949.50 without excise tax. The tire will be made only in Detroit and will be stocked at regional warehouses.

Glee Club H Lights

The high school Glee Club has started the year off with a bang! With the largest number of members in some time. Of course the girls outnumber the boys and Miss Najarian would really like to have more male voices in the club.

Invitations have been received to attend the State Chorus in Tampa, although this group will be a selective few. The chorus along with a girl's trio, is planning to participate in a lot of activities this year. Included in these are the Christmas Pageant, Lion Club, Minstrel's and other civic club projects.

For the first six weeks of school the Glee Club is in a period of orientation, learning to sing and the more fundamentals of music. The Glee Club will be glad to take part in any special musical programs for organizations if they will call Miss Marian Najarian, director.

Visitors are cordially invited to visit the Glee Club Room, which has a brand new look this year. Miss Najarian has added new and added many posters to make the room more attractive. The room is located in the old elementary school building.

Assembly

Students were arranged by classes, in alphabetical seating order in Assembly last Thursday morning. They are to keep this arrangement during all assemblies throughout the school year.

A loud speaker has been purchased for school use, which can be attached to cars for announcements and also used at class dances.

Officers of classes and most of the organizations were recognized during assembly, and students, delegates, who attended boys' and girls' state gave reports on their trips. Friday was designated "color day" for faculty and students.
